1. On mer-it not my own I stand, on do-ings which I have not done,
2. Not on the tears which I have shed, not on the sor rows I have known,
3. Je - sus, O Son of God, I build on what your cross has done for me.
4. Lord, I be-lieve, O deal with me as one who has your Word be - liev'd.
5. Here at your feast I take the pledge which life e - ter-nal to me seals.

mer - it be-yond what I can claim, do-ings more per - fect than my own.
an - oth-er's tears, an - oth-er's grief, on them I rest, on them a - lone.
There both my death and life I read; my guilt, my par - don there I see.
I take the gift, Lord, look on me as one who has your gift re-ceived.
Here in the bread and wine I read the grace and peace your death re-veals.
